Industrial Slow Down

655. SHRI TARINIKANTA ROY:

SHRI S.K. KHABIR UDDIN AHMED:

Will the Minister of FINANCE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government are aware of the fact that industrial slow-down and globalisation are responsible for the rising unemployment in India;

(b) whether Government are also aware that prolonged joblessness has led to frustration and discontentment among the unemployed youth and posed a big problem for the country;

- (c) whether Government and the private sector still intend to cut job; and
 (d) if so, the reasons and justification thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE AND COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRI ANANT GANGARAM GEETE) : (a) to (d) Even though globalisation does have short run effects on some sectors of the economy, but the overall impact should be seen in the opportunities created through expanded markets and the competitive forces unleashed to generate efficiency in domestic production. Globalisation is also expected to induce a more labour-intensive pattern of production, which would help employment growth.

As per the latest round of surveys conducted by the National Sample Survey Organisation, the unemployment rate on Current Daily Status (CDS) basis increased from 6 per cent of the labour force in 1993-94 (50th Round) to 7.32 per cent in 1999-2000 (55th Round). The estimated number of persons employed along with the growth rate of employment per annum is as under:-

Employed persons (million)			Annual growth rate (%)
1983	1993-94	1999-00	1983-94	1994-2000
302.75	374.45	397.00	2.04	0.98

Employment in sectors such as trade, construction, financial services, transport, storage and communication has grown faster than the average rate of growth of employment during 1993-94 to 1999-2000, reflecting a structural transformation in the nature of the job market with jobs increasingly being generated in the non-government sector.
