(c) if so, Government's plans in this regard?

†Original notice of the Question received in Hindi.

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CONSUMER AFFAIRS AND PUBLIC DISTRIBUTION (SHRI SRIRAM CHAUHAN):

(a) The benefits under the present form of Public Distribution System (PDS) are available to all families. Access to these benefits through Fair Price Shops (FPS) by means of ration cards is arranged by State Governments. Number of ration cards issued to families state-wise and yearwise during the last three years as reported by the State Government/UT Administrations indicating the number of families benefited is given in the Statement (See below)

(b) In the present form of PDS in which population living above poverty line (APL) is also extended the benefits of subsidised foodgrains and other essential commodities, the benefit of subsidy is not received by the people below poverty line (BPL) alone.

(c) The identification of families below poverty line and issue of special ration cards to them for issue of specially subsidised foodgrains after the introduction of Targeted Public Distribution System (TPDS) in June, 1997 has been the first step towards streamlining the PDS with its focus on the poor. A consensus is needed for providing more foodgrains under TPDS to BPL families thereby targeting the food subsidy to the poor alone.
