

[22 December, 1999] RAJYA SABHA

(b) if so, the steps proposed by Government to ensure uniform implementation of the law by all the States;

(c) whether Government are also aware that large chunks of land allotted to weaker sections of society for habitation purposes, have been forcibly occupied by social miscreants; and

(d) if so, the action taken by Government for restoration of such land to the actual allottees?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT (SHRI A. RAJA): (a) and (b) In land consolidation, substantial progress has been made in the States of Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh. Progress has also been substantial in the State of Maharashtra. Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat, Karnataka, Rajasthan are the States where some work has been done, while experimental work has been done in Andhra Pradesh and Jammu & Kashmir. Not much work has been done in Assam, Orissa and West Bengal, though there are enabling legislations. A National Committee on Consolidation of Land Holdings has been constituted by Government of India for formulating a new Centrally Sponsored Scheme on Consolidation of Land Holdings for assisting the States.

(c) and (d) No such complaints have been received by the Government of India.
