Blue print for limiting access to higher professional education

*178. SHRI RAMDAS AGARWAL:

SHRI CHATURANAN MISHRA : Will the Minister of HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT be pleased to state :

(a) whether it is a fact that University Grants Commission (UGC) has prepared a blue print for limiting the access to higher professional education in the Government aided colleges and universities;

- (b) if so, the details of the blue print;
- (c) whether it is a fact that the Supreme Court had directed the UGC to frame regulations for determining fees which can be charged by an aided affiliated college only; and
- (d) if so, what are the reasons for not preparing the blue print for non-added colleges and universities?

THE MINISTER OF HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT (SHRI ARJUN SINGH): (a) to (d) It is not correct to state that University Grants Commission is seeking to limit access to higher education including professional education or that the UGC has prepared any blue print or guidelines or regulations for limiting access to higher education. On the other hand, more and more institutions and courses are being started every year in the country to further widen access to higher education.

In J. P. Unnikrishnan and others Vs. State of Andhra Pradesh and others case, the Supreme Court had delivered the judgement on 4-2-1993, in which it prescribed a scheme for regulating admissions and fees which the appropriate Governments and recognising and affiliating authorities shall impose and implement in addition to such other conditions as they may think appropriate concerning conditions for grant of permission, recognition, etc. In this judgement, the Supreme Court also directed that UGC should frame regulations under the UGC Act for regulating the fees which the affiliated colleges operating on no grant-in-aid basis are entitled to charge. It may be noted that the regulations for the technical institutions and courses have to be issued by the AICTE and for the medical institutions and courses by the Indian Medical Council. Therefore, only the residuary area is to be covered by the UGC. In compliance of the Supreme Court directive, the UGC developed a draft of regulations under the UGC Act and this was discussed along with AICTE guidelines with the Ministers of State Governments on 17-6-1993. The UGC has appointed an Expert Committee to finalise the draft regulations and thereafter it would finalise and formally issue these regulations.
