Non-availability of essential items to weaker sections

*89. SHRI KAMAL MORARKA: Will the Minister of CIVIL SUPPLIES, CONSUMER AFFAIRS AND PUBLIC DISTRIBUTION be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government are aware of the total failure of the public distribution system in the country particularly in the jhuggi jhonpari areas where essential items are not being provided to the weaker sections; and

(b) if, so what steps are being taken to ensure that controlled items are not sold in black market?

THE MINISTER OF CIVIL SUPPLIES, CONSUMER AFFAIRS AND PUBLIC DISTRIBUTION (SHRI A.K. ANTONY): (a) and (b) It would be incorrect to say that the Public Distribution System in the country has failed particularly in jhuggi jhonpari areas. The Central Government is responsible for the procurement, storage and transportation of PDS commodities and for allocation to State Governments who are responsible for the actual distribution to the consumers through the network of fair price shops. A total quantity of 14.41 million tonnes of wheat and rice were lifted by States/UTs during April, 1992 to January, 1993 for distribution through PDS, apart from sugar, kerosene and edible oil. In an operation of such a vast magnitude, some shortcomings here and there cannot be ruled out, altogether. However the strengthening and streamlining of the PDS is a continuous process. State Governments have been delegated powers under the Essential Commodities Act for proper and effective implementation, to curb unfair trade practices and to prevent diversion of PDS commodities into open market. Officers of the State Governments/UT Administrations undertake checks and surprise visits to oversee the supply and distribution of PDS commodities to consumers.
