

despite the law prohibiting their employment in such industries;

(b) whether Government are also aware that most of the child labourers remain illiterate and many of them suffer from chronic ailments such as T.B., Cancer etc.

(c) if so, whether Government proposed to make it compulsory for the employers of children to send such children to schools in the evening or night schools and insure them against disease and occupational accidents.; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor and what action Government propose to take to improve the lot of child labourers in the country?

THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF LABOUR (SHRI PABAN SING GHATOWAR): (a) and (b) Government is aware that many children are working under difficult conditions and they are not able to avail of the educational facilities due to socio-economic compulsions.

(c) and (d) A number of legislations have been enacted with a view to protect the children from exploitation at work and also to improve their working conditions. Social security benefits concerning workers' compensation and also insurance are available as per legislative provisions and specific schemes for all workers. The National Policy on Child Labour 1987, inter alia, envisages project based plan of action in areas of concentration of child labour and focussing on general development programme for the benefit of child labour. Financial assistance to voluntary organisations is also provided for taking up action-oriented projects. All these welfare projects generally have an integrated approach comprising educational, vocational training, nutritional, health care etc. Many State Governments also have legislated making educational compulsory for all children. Hence, there is no proposal to compel the employers to ensure education of children.
