Measures to ease credit crunch

1624. SHRI N. K. SINGH : Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the tight money policy of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is crippling the growth potential of the economy;

(b) if so, whether Government is considering any proposals to ease this credit squeeze; and

(c) if not, what are the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE (SHRI PAWAN KUMAR BANSAL):

(a) to (c) Monetary measures are initiated by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to facilitate growth and contain inflation. During periods of high inflation, the RBI regulates money supply in order to control inflation and vice-versa.

During the current financial year when inflation was in double digit, steps were taken by the RBI to curtail money supply by increasing the Cash Reserve Ratio (CRR) and the Repo rate. With inflation coming down from its peak level of August 2008 and in the wake of global financial crisis, contra measures were announced by the RBI, to expand money supply by reducing the CRR, Repo and Reverse repo rates and the Statutory Liquidity Ratio (SLR). A table on the movement of these rates is given below:

Revision in Policy Rates (in per cent)

Sl. No.	Date	Repo Rate	Reverse Repo Rate	CRR	SLR
1.	As on August 30, 2008	9.0	6.0	9.0	25.0
2.	October 11, 2008	9.0	6.0	6.5	25.0
3.	October 20, 2008	8.0	6.0	6.5	25.0
4.	October 25, 2008	8.0	6.0	6.0	25.0
5.	November 3, 2008	7.5	6.0	6.0	25.0
6.	November 8, 2008	7.5	6.0	5.5	24.0
7.	December 6, 2008	6.5	5.0	5.5	24.0

Note:

Figures in bold indicate the change effected by RBI

CRR: Cash Reserve Ratio

SLR: Statutory Liquidity Ratio

During the financial year 2008-09 (upto November 21, 2008) there is no evidence of credit squeeze by the banking sector. Non-food credit extended by the Schedule Commercial Banks (SCBs) increased by Rs. 2,65,795 crore (11.5 per cent) compared to Rs. 1,50,380 crore (8.0 per cent) in the previous year. On an annual basis growth of non-food credit by SCBs was at 26.9 as compared to 23.7 per cent in the previous year.
