THE PRIME MINISTER (SHRI CHANDRA SHEKHAR): Madam, there is some problem about the oil that is lying with the National Dairy Development Board. We have received some complaints from the Chief Ministers of Gujarat and Maharashtra. We had a discussion with the Chairman of the National Dairy Development Board. We are trying to find out what could be done. There is no need to get exercised over it. I assure the hon. Members that the public distribution system run by the State Government will be honoured and no other agencies will run... (Interruptions).

SHRI A. G. KULKARNI: That is good.

SHRI V. NARAYANASAMY: But what is the result of the Chief Minister's allegation? ... (Interruptions).

SHRI CHANDRA SHEKHAR: If any allegation is there we shall look into it. And if the Government has made any order, of which I do not know, I shall get it examined.

REG. THREAT TO SOME PRESS REPORTERS BY A DIPLOMAT.

SHRI GURUDAS DAS GUPTA (West Bengal): Please permit me to speak. This is a very important matter... (Interruptions)

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: The Chairman has permitted Mr. Gurupadaswamy and Shri Gurudas Das Gupta to speak.

SHRI GURUDAS DAS GUPTA: I would like to mention this point in the presence of the Prime Minister. Madam, Indian press has been threatened by the member* of the diplomatic corps in Delhi itself. . . (Interruptions). It is a very serious matter, Mr. Gurupadaswamy, please let me speak. Madam, the point is, Indian journalists have been threatened by the members of the diplomatic corps in the capital of India because they are writing against the American, British and other forces invading Iraq and carrying on genocide. The article has appeared in The Economic Times dated 15th February. The writer was Mr. Praful Bidwal. The article was captioned "U.S. has opted for high-tech barbarism". Three days later, a letter was received by the journalist, signed by Mr. P. J. Fowler, Deputy High Commissioner, British High Commission. The letter is dated 19th February. I would just quote certain portions from this letter. In one part, it says: "It is with great regret, therefore, that I read your piece in the 'Economic Times' of 15th February which, even with every allowance for the emotions in impact of the tragic death of civilians in the Baghdad armoured bunker, can be described as outrageously biased and bad journalism." This is one part. In another place, he says: "Your theories about the West trapping Iraq into the invasion of Kuwait can only be described as silly." Then, the letter says: "You surely do no good to India, let alone credit to yourself, by spreading wild conspiracy theories."

Madam, this line "You surely do no good to India", is absolutely a veiled threat. It is a veiled threat. The point is, this letter could have been sent to the Editor of the journal and it would have been published in the 'Letters to the Editor' column. It seems this person, Mr. Fowler, has his own way of looking at things. Instead of writing to the Editor, to be published in the 'Letters to the Editor' column, he sent the letter privately.

I would say that, firstly, Mr. Fowler has been behaving in a most improper way. He; has been behaving in an arrogant way. This is against all canons of decency and code of diplomatic behaviour. I am led to believe that the descendants of the colonisers of India do believe that India is still a colony of theirs. I wish the nation takes note of it, the Government takes note of it. Either Mr. Fowler should apologise, or, he should be expelled from India.

Madam, this not the first instance. There are many more instances where the Indian journalists are being briefed, threats.
