

SHRI PARVATHANENI UPENDRA: You have given enough sermons. We know how to conduct the House.

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN; I am not listening. (Interruptions).

SHRI M. S. GURPADASWAMY: It is an insult to the Parliament.

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: I am now taking the Scheduled Castes and the Scheduled Tribes Bill.

SHRI MURASOLI MARAN: On a point of order. The Parliamentary Practice is that the Reporters i.e. the stenographers should report what they hear with their own ears. Like all of us the Reporters could not have heard a single word uttered by the Home Minister as it was drowned by the din and noise. But now I have seen with my own eyes how his junior Minister has come to the Reporter's Table and given his written speech for record. This is against Parliamentary Practice.

SHRI V. GOPALSAMY: They should write whatever they have heard. Nothing else should go on record. (Interruptions).

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: Please, do not manhandle our Secretariat staff.

AN HON. MEMBER: What papers have they snatched from here? We want to know that.

SHRIS. S. AHLUWALIA (Bihar): Madam, you must condemn.

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: Only after you sit down. I can speak. Please take your seat.

SHRI S. S. AHLUWALIA: You take action... (Interruptions)...

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: I would request Mr. Talari Manoharto return the speech... (Interruptions)...

The House is adjourned for fifteen minutes.

The House then adjourned at six minutes past nine of the clock.

The House re-assembled at twenty-nine minutes past nine of the clock, The Vice-Chairman (Shri V. Narayanasamy) in the Chair.

As a custodian of this House, I want your justice. I want your protection also. You tell me what type of action you are going to take against these people who are responsible for such things.

THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: I will give my ruling in the end. Let everybody speak. Then I will give my ruling. I understand the sentiments of the House and I feel very very sorry. I am really ashamed of such a behaviour. But let Mr. M. S. Gurupfadaswamy also say some thing.

SHRI M. S. GURUFADASWAMY (Karnataka): Madam Deputy Chairman, it is with sorrow and anguish I am speaking on this occasion. Many things which should not have happened in the House have happened. The developments of today have not only marred the atmosphere in the House but have affected the fellowship, the understanding between Member and Member. It has also affected the working of Parliament itself. I do not think anybody in this House justifies in his moments of detached thinking what all happened for the last two or three hours. There was a chain of events which led to many things which we do not like and such things should not be repeated in the future if we wish to guard dignity and decency in the House. It was a sort of an emotional and sentimental upsurge which caused aberration in our behaviour on the floor of the House. I think, for the working of the Parliamentary institutions, such things should be totally avoided. What is past is past. And we the Members of the House have got to work as a fraternity. We cannot work as warring camps. I am aware of it, whether we belong to this side of the House or that side of the House. We are all brothers and sisters. We are a fraternity. Sometimes even in the fraternity differences arise. But they have got to be sorted out peacefully. On this particular incident which took place I feel extremely distressed. Some Member belonging to my side took away some paper from the Table and tore it. I feel it is an unfortunate incident. It should not happen. The
