Drying up of rivers

†2242. SHRI JANESHWAR MISHRA:
SHRI BRIJ BHUSHAN TIWARI:

Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that forty per cent of the small rivers in the country are on the verge of drying up and some of them have already turned extinct;

(b) if so, whether Government is working on any effective plan to protect and restore the rivers, considered to be source of lives; and

(c) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI VINCENT PALA): (a) Analysis of available river flow data do not indicate that the small rivers are not the verge of drying up. Further, there are no information about small rivers becoming extinct.

(b) and (c) Do not arise.

Walson Water Project

†2243. SHRI SAMAN PATHAK: Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) the progress made in the work on Walson Water Project in Darjeeling; and

(b) whether the work on this project is expected to be completed within the scheduled time?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI VINCENT PALA): (a) and (b) As per information available in this Ministry, there is no Major or Medium irrigation project under execution with the name Walson in West Bengal. However, as informed by the Ministry of Urban Development there is one scheme namely Darjeeling Drinking Water Project of Balasan in West Bengal. An expenditure of Rs. 16.44 crore has been incurred on this project till 31.3.2008. The project is being executed by the State Government of West Bengal. As such, the completion of the project depends upon the Budget outlays provided by State Government and priority assigned by the Project Authorities for its execution.
