WRITTEN ANSWERS TO STARRED QUESTIONS

Effecting ban on Endosulfan

† *22. SHRI SATYAVRAT CHATURVEDI:

SHRI MOTILAL VORA:

Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state:

† Original notice of the question was received in Hindi

(a) whether it is a fact that the pesticide Endosulfan is banned in 62 countries and a demand is being made for several years to ban this in India too;

(b) whether it is also a fact that several hormonal and re-productivity related defects are developing due to this pesticide;

(c) whether it is also a fact that it was extensively used in tea gardens before 2003 due to which people suffered with fatal diseases;

(d) if so, the reasons for not banning such type of dangerous pesticide in India; and

(e) by when a ban would be put on it?

THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE (SHRI SHARAD PAWAR): (a) As per information available, Endosulfan has been banned in about 60 countries and is being used in about 40 countries, including India. Demand for banning it has been made occasionally.

(b) and (c) Government had constituted a committee comprising experts in September 2004 under the Chairmanship of Dr. C.D. Mayee, the then Agriculture Commissioner and Chairman of Registration Committee to:

(i) examine the various reports/findings/recommendations of the previous committees on Endosulfan in order to assess the safety in regard to public health; and

(ii) make recommendations regarding the future use of Endosulfan.

The Committee, after considering all factors and available reports, recommended that the use of Endosulfan be continued as per provisions of the Insecticides Act, 1968. Endosulfan has been approved for use in tea in the country, but no adverse effects have been reported.

(d) and (e) As stated in reply to parts (b) and (c), based on recommendations of the committee comprising experts, use of Endosulfan is continued as per provisions of the Insecticides Act, 1968. However, Government of Kerala has been requested to institute an epidemiological study in the cashew plantation areas in the State on reports of illness in certain villages. Pending finalization of the study, as a precautionary measure, and on the recommendations of the Committee, the use of Endosulfan has been kept on hold in Kerala vide Notification No. S.O. 1874(E) dated 31.10.2006.
