REFERENCE TO THE NEED TO PROFOTE MUSIC IN SCHOOLS

PT. RAVI SHANKAR (Nominated): I am thankful to you for giving me the opportunity to make my maiden speech today.

I take this opportunity to draw the attention of this august House to a very important sphere of our culture which is music. Since the very beginning of our civilization this has continued to enrich our cultural heritage. The folk music, the devotional and the classical music co-existed together feeding the aesthetic hunger to different groups of society.

We are lucky that unlike some other nations with a great past, the flow of culture and tradition did not dry up or stop at some point in our country. In fact, contrary to many people's belief it is still alive and not entirely lost. Some of us musicians have been conscious and have been trying our best to preserve and nurture the great heritage that is still with us by teaching a few selected disciples what we learnt from our masters. A few of our universities have faculties of music. There are a few music universities also and music colleges all around the country. Numerous music institutions and music teachers are giving training too. It is a well-known fact that our classical music is a gurunukhi vidya. Only young people born in the family of musicians or some very gifted ones with Samskar can learn from the Guru and have to do sadhana for many years to become a good musician. But this is only concerning a performer.

As far as creating listeners is concerned. I think the institutions I mentioned earlier with many societies in various cities plus All India Radio and Door-darshan have been of some help. As Pt. Vishnu Digambar, the great singer and teacher was once asked by some one, Panditji, you have started Gandharva Mahavidyalaya. How many Tansen's you have created? Vishnu Digambar Ji answered; 'I will never be able to create a Tansen but I will create a few Kensen.' But all these facilities mentioned are restricted only in our cities and as an 'optional subject' only, which is not enough considering the vast population of our country.

I feel, along with many others, who are concerned about the future of our music that the Government should ensure music to be incorporated in the syllabus from the very beginning of the school education as compulsory along with dance, yoga, acrobatics and fine arts even from the kindergarten stage through a disciplined training of simple nursery rhymes and rhythmic body exercises. They should be able to sing not only in their own mother tongue, but also in different languages of India and abroad, imbibing 'Sangeet Chetana' or musical awareness and appreciation, alongwith 'Svara and Laya both' sense of pitch and time. These little kids, when they grow up they should also be able to enjoy classical music alongwith rock, pop, disco, film and other light music. In classical music also, not just the fast dazzling 'taans' and 'jhalas' of the voice and instrument or the exciting fast playing of tabla, but also the depth and spiritual quality in the slow movement of a Raga.

Everybody will be able to sing in unison, the national anthem and other songs.

I think this will automatically bring peace, harmony and human understanding amongst us and make India a truly musical Nation.

Thank you.

MR. CHAIRMAN: I will make the tradition and clap. Now, Dr. (Shrimati) Najma Heptulla.

REFERENCE TO THE REPORTED SEIZURE OF UNAUTHORISED URANIUM IN PURNIA DISTRICT OF BIHAR

DR. (SHRIMATI NAJMA HEPTULLA (Maharashtra): Mr. Chairman, Sir, I thank you for giving me this opportunity to make a special mention on a very important news which appeared in "The Hindustan Times" dt. 10.12.1986 under the caption "Uranium seized from smugglers". I quote:

The Central excise and customs officials headed by an Assistant Director of Revenue Intelligence (New Delhi) raided the place and seized the contraband.
