

Settlement of border dispute between India and China

*275. SHRIMATI OMEM MOYONG DEORI;

SHRI PARVATHANENI UPENDRA:

Will the Minister of EXTERNAL AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether there has been any breakthrough in the recent border talks with China;

(b) if not, what are the factors which are coming in the way of a settlement of the border dispute; and

(c) what action Government propose to take to resolve this long-standing dispute between India and China?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI KR. NARAYANAN): (a) At the 7th Round of Official Level Talks between India and China, held in Beijing, from July 21 to 28, 1986, substantive discussions were continued on the Eastern Sector of India-China Boundary. Thereafter, discussions commenced on the Western Sector.

(b) The Chinese side reiterated that the Eastern Sector was the area of "largest dispute". In response, the Indian side reiterated our stand and that India-China boundary in the Eastern Sector is the traditional customary line which is well-known and which has in addition received sanction by treaty and administrative jurisdiction.

(c) Government intend to continue discussion on this question during the next round of official level talks with China with a view to reaching a just and comprehensive settlement covering all sectors of the boundary.

Posting of Intelligence Officers from Britain to check drug smuggling
