MOTION OF THANKS TO THE PRESIDENT ADDRESS—Contd.

MR. CHAIRMAN: So, I will request the Prime Minister to reply to the debate. We will take up Special Mentions afterwards.

THE PRIME MINISTER (SHRI RAJIV GANDHI): Mr. Chairman, Sir, some points have been raised in this House saying that the verdict of the polls was the verdict against the past. I see nothing more absurd than a statement that says that a party in power is re-elected because it did something wrong. In fact, our friends in the Opposition should think as to why their parties lost their votes. The verdict of the last elections was a verdict, as one of our hon. friends across the House has said, for a change as well as a verdict for continuity—continuity in what the Congress stands for, continuity in ideology, continuity in our fight for social justice, continuity in our fight for self-reliance, continuity against concentration of wealth, continuity in running a good public sector for the benefit of the people, continuity in our ideals of secularism and non-alignment, continuity in our ideals of non-violence. And there is no discrepancy in this. But today we have to review and see how we can move ahead faster. While my friends in the Opposition have dwelt on the past, the past has been answered in the last elections, and no further answer needs to be given to them. While they look to the past, we look ahead to the future, Sir, we look towards an India that will be strong, progressive and dynamic. And in this we shall request help from all our friends, from all political parties, even if they are not in the House. Many of my friends have made remarks—I do not want to go into the details of who said what—but many of their remarks indicate that they have not even bothered
