past, efforts of the State Governments towards the creation of sports infrastructure had been supplemented by the Government of India through Centrally Sponsored Sports Infrastructure Schemes. This has, however, been discontinued since 01.04.2005. While there is considerable sports infrastructure in the country created by State Governments either under State Scheme or Centrally Sponsored Schemes as well as in the Corporate Sector and private individuals, and the Sports Authority of India's Training Centres, sub-centres, Regional Centre, there is no denying that there is considerable scope for augmenting the country's sports infrastructure.

With a view to meeting the shortage of sports infrastructure at the grass-root levels, particularly in rural areas, the Ministry proposes to launch during the XIth Plan, a Scheme, provisionally entitled 'Panchayat Yuva Khel Abhiyan', to provide access to organized games and sports, to large sections of the youth adolescents and children, both as an activity integral to youth development and to widen the catchment for scouting and nurturing talent and improving performance in competitive sports at the National and International levels. Discussions regarding the Scheme are underway with the State Governments and other stake-holders concerned.

But with effect from 1.4.2005, the sports infrastructure schemes were transferred to the State Sector. Thus, fresh cases of sports infrastructure projects will have to be funded by the State Governments out of their own resources.
