World Bank aid to National Agricultural Research Project

1255. SHRI INDRADEEP SINHA: Will the Minister of AGRICULTURE be pleased to state :

(a) what is the present status of the World Bank aided National Agricultural Research Project run by the ICAR vis-a-vis its project targets/achievements, both financial and scientific ; and

(b) whether Government are aware that ICAR has surrendered over Rs. 60 crores during last four years, if so, reasons for taking rupee loan from World Bank under the National Agricultural Research Project for which hardly Rs. 5-7 crores have been spent so far ?

THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE (RAO BIRENDRA SINGH): (a) The National Agricultural Research Project (NARP) is being implemented by the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) from 1-1-1979 with assistance from DDA, an affiliate of the World Bank. The object of the project is to strengthen the regional research capabilities of agricultural universities. During the initial two years, the project implementation could not achieve full momentum due to the several reasons like (a) the time taken to organise detailed State-wise research review for indentifying investment proposals (b) non-eligibility of 10 agricultural universities for participation due to non-fulfilment of certain terms and conditions
