Statement

Originally, 8 offers of submarines were received from five countries. After initial evaluation, the choice narrowed down to only two shipyards, viz. M/s. Kockums of Sweden and M/s. Howaldtswerke Deutsche Werft (H.D.W.) of West Germany. Submarines of both these shipyards were considered by the technical officers to be suitable for meeting the requirements of the Navy. The Swedish offer was not lower than the German offer for the total cost of the project. Keeping all relevant factors in view, such as cost, transfer of technology and logistic support, design assistance available to the shipyard and delivery schedule the Government selected

M/s. H.D.W. of West Germany for the submarine project. Negotiations are going on with this company in regard to the contracts to be entered into with them. Negotiations are also in progress with the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany for concluding an appropriate understanding between the two Governments in regard to the submarine project.]
