SHRIMATI AMBIKA SONI: I have no supplementary.

SHRIMATI AMARJIT KAUR: Sir, there is no doubt that the orders for some items have been placed. But the fact remains that considerable delay has already taken place in setting up these two paper mills. May I, therefore, ask as to when these mills are likely to be completely set up in order to start production?

SHRI GEORGE FERNANDES: Sir, the ground work on the Nowgong paper mill has already started. As I have informed the hon. Member, machinery has been ordered both for Nowgong and Cachar mills. It will take us about 3^{1/2} to 4 hours before the Nowgong project is completed. The work on the Cachar project will start some time late next year and it will take 3^{1/2} to 4 years after that to complete the project.

DR. RAJAT KUMAR CHAKRABARTI: May I know from the hon. Minister whether instead of placing orders for the machinery with one or two firms only, in the private sector. Whether the Minister had considered placing the order for such machinery with M.A.M.C. at Durgapur and other factories in the public sector?

SHRI GEORGE FERNANDES: So far as Jessops is concerned, it is not a private sector firm. Jessops is managed by the Government of India, The orders for the machinery were placed after inviting tenders from various firms inside the country.

SHRI NRIPATI . RANJAN CHOU-DHURY; It appears from the statement and from the replies given by the Minister to supplementaries that the Cachar paper mill will be commissioned one year later than the Nowgong paper mill in view of this, may I know from the hon. Minister whether he has received representation from the Assam Government and also from his party unit at Cachar District for simultaneously commissioning both the projects? If so, what is the decision? Are they considering the proposal?

SHRI GEORGE FERNANDES: A number of representations have been received both from the Assam Government and from various public institutions, including political parties and citizens' committees. So, the only problem is a logistics problem and an organisational problem of having an adequate number of people, engineers, technicians and others, who can take on this job and complete the two projects in Assam at the same time. We are Sir, organisationally not equipped to handle work of such a magnitude simultaneously. That is the only reason why there has been a slight phasing and there is no other reason.

SHRI NABIN CHANDRA BURAGOHAIN; Sir, the hon. Minister has made a statement about the availability of machinery for the two timber and pulp projects. May I know from the Minister whether some machinery will be procured from outside and if so, whether orders have been placed and with which countries?

SHRI GEORGE FERNANDES: No machinery is being procured from outside. We have contracted with the domestic companies to supply the machinery for these units.
