Statement

(a) and (b) Damaged wheat was found dumped in pits dug in the premises of Food Corporation of India Depot at Imalia. This came to notice at the instance of some non-officials. On investigation^ the Food Corporation of India have reported that some stocks of foodgrains at this depot, which were in excess of the capacity of the godown, had to be stored on plinth duly covered by polythene but in the open. Due to continuous rain during the second fortnight of July, 1976, there was flooding of the area which affected the bottom layers of two stacks which had been put up on plinths. The Corporation have further reported that when the staff of the depot discovered this damage, they segregated the affected bags, opened them, and salvaged the foodgrains as far as possible. The damaged grains were collected separately. Instead of following the prescribed procedure of intimating the higher authorities, when the damaged grain started giving foul smell, the Depot staff dumped it in pits which they dug out in the premises. The net quantity of damaged wheat has been assessed by the Corporation at about 80 quintals. On the basis of the preliminary inquiry, the Assistant Manager concerned and five other officials of the depot have been suspended. Further action against such staff as may be found responsible will be taken after the completion of the- inquiry.]
