

Swatantrata Sainik Samman Pension Scheme in 1980. Since inception, about 1.69 lakh Samman Pensions have been sanctioned and about 4.57 lakh claims have been rejected (till 31.03.2005).

This Ministry keeps on receiving complaints from various sources regarding grant of Samman pension to ineligible persons. Sometimes Courts have also ordered enquiries, and in a few cases petitioners have also filed affidavits in Courts alleging grant of Samman pension to ineligible persons.

This Ministry conducts an enquiry through the concerned State Government and/or examines its available records to ascertain whether the concerned person meets the eligibility and evidentiary requirements prescribed in the Swatantrata Sainik Samman Pension Scheme, 1980.

Where it is seen that any person does not fulfil the eligibility/evidentiary requirements, proceedings for cancellation of the Samman pension are initiated. The pensioner is given an opportunity of being heard, and, after considering his reply (if furnished), a final decision on cancellation is taken. Since the inception of the scheme in 1972, till 31.03.2005, about 1582 Samman pensions have been cancelled. In case the specificity of any case so merits, the pension is suspended pending the finalization of the cancellation proceeding.

Receipt of complaints, enquiries through the State Governments, examination of available records, suspension of the pension if the specificity of the case so merits and final cancellation of the pension when established that eligibility/evidentiary requirements are not fulfilled are a continuous process.
