

for the current financial year 1973-74, in the context of the Consortium meeting which was held at Paris later in June, 1975.

His discussions covered various aspects of this assistance such as debt relief, non-project assistance and project aid as also the terms of assistance.

Subsequently at the Aid India Consortium meeting held in Paris on the 14th and 15th June, 1971, the Government of Japan pledged a sum of approximately Yen 15 Billion (Rs. 36 crores) as debt relief and a sum of Yen 7 Billion (Rs. 1 (3.8 crores) as non-project assistance for the year 1973-74,

As regards project aid, no specific pledge was made at the Consortium meeting, and the quantum, terms and modalities of such aid are separately under discussion between the two Governments in the context of a request made by the Government for financing the foreign exchange costs of the fertilizer plants.

Negotiations are also continuing between the two Governments for translating the assistance pledged by Japan into specific agreements.
