THE MINISTER OF INDUSTRIAL

TECHNOLOGY (SHRI C SUBRAMANIAM) (a) Not yet, Sir

(b) and (c) No, Sir But some of the suggestions put forward by the scientific community including representatives from industries which had occasion to consider the proposal regarding the R and D cess are

- 1 The levy of cess in proportion to the volume of turnover of the industrial units may not be fair in all cases the cess could probably be levied as a percentage of the profits made
- 2 The cess should be levied on those units alone which have high margins of profit
- 3 The cess collected from a group of industries should be ploughed back to the same group for R and D activities
- 4 Only industries which did not have their own R and D schemes should be subjected to this cess
