THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE (SHRI A. C. GEORGE): (a) to (c) The reference of the Hon'ble Member is perhaps to the Limited Payments Arrangement. The limited payments¹ arrangements, which was an interim arrangement for facilitating import and export of commodities of special interest on a balanced basis, was a part of the Trade Agreement which was valid initially for a period of one year. The Trade Agreement has now been extended by three months to 27th June, 1973.

The Governments of India and Bangladesh are in touch with each other on arrangements beyond that date. In this context, there has been informal exchange of views between officials of Bangladesh and India who met last week in Delhi. They will be meeting again in the first week of June, 1973.
