

A Secretary in the Ministry of External Affairs recently visited Bombay to discuss this matter with the opposite officials of the Maharashtra Government. Following from these discussions, inter alia, all the State Governments have been requested to immediately tighten up security arrangements at all possible exit points. The State Governments have also been advised to give the widest possible publicity, through language newspapers and through Welfare Organisations, particularly among the poorer and more susceptible sections of the society, to the hazards to which such women are exposed abroad. In general, a careful watch is being kept on the situation. Any further measures which may appear necessary, to curb such illegal emigration, will be taken at the appropriate time.
