

(c) to (e) The HDR 2010 places India at 119th rank in Human Development Index (HDI) as compared to 134th rank in 2009. It has been clarified in the report that International Data Agencies continuously improve their data series and update the historical data, therefore, year to year changes in the HDI values and rankings across editions of the Human Development Report often reflect changes. The HDR 2010 reveals that India has registered a consistent improvement in HDI value which increased from 0.482 in 2005 to 0.519 in 2010. It is also reported that India has registered highest ever average annual HDI growth rate of 1.66 percent during the decade 2000-2010.

The Government is already implementing a number of poverty alleviation programmes such as Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA), Sauranjayanti Gram Swarozgar Yojana (SGSY), Indira Awas Yojana (IAY), Sauranjayanti Shehri Rozgar Yojana (SSRY) alongwith other flagship programmes aiming at improving the standard of living of the people especially in the rural areas. The Eleventh Five Year Plan targets the reduction in the head count ratio of consumption poverty by 10 percentage points.
