

- Lack of utility of Birth and Death Certificate due to validity of other alternative documents.
- Lack of coordination between various departments engaged in registration work.
- Inadequate allocation of funds by States for this work.

Government of India is making efforts for achieving the target of cent per cent registration of birth and death. Continuous efforts are being made at national and State level to create awareness among the public about importance of registration of birth and death by means of various modes of publicity. Financial assistance for this purpose is also provided to the State Governments.
