

SHRI DALPAT SINGH : What about my second question? In which of the States has the Food Corporation started purchasing wheat?

SHRI ANNASAHAB P. SINDE : Technically, except Jammu and Kashmir, we are now competent to operate everywhere in the country. But it also depends upon the consent of the State Governments. For instance, Maharashtra is not allowing the Food Corporation of India to operate because they say that their co-operatives are better agencies for this purpose and they would do this work. Haryana also says, "Our State Civil Supplies Department is there. The Food Corporation of India should not operate here." But in the rest of the country, except Nagaland and a few Centrally administered areas, the Food Corporation of India is operating.
