STATEMENT

Central Funds to Rajasthan for 'Rural Drinking Water Scheme

Under the Rural Works Programme which, in Rajasthan, covers 10 districts (namely, Jaisalmer, Barmer, Pali, Ja-lore, Bikaner, Churu, Jodhpur, Bansr wara, Nagaur and Dungarpur), rural drinking water supply schemes will also be taken up. The main aim of the Rural Works Programme is to provide employment to agricultural labour and to mitigate severity of scarcity conditions in the selected chronically drought prone districts by organising labour intensive and productive works. As water supply schemes are not very labour intensive, the question of their inclusion in the programme had to be i examined in detail. Taking into account the special conditions in the 10 selected districts of Rajasthan, it was decided to earmark an amount of Rs. 3 crores—within the total outlay of Rs. 20 crores Which will be available to

.these districts over the 4 year programme period-for rural drinking water

Before actually taking up these schemes, it would be necessary to consider various technical factors. This is likely to take time. The State Government are formulating master plans for all the selected R.W.P. districts on the basis of which the programme for the remaining years of IV Plan will be sanctioned. The rural water supply schemes will be included in these master plans and are likely to be taken up during the current financial year. Rural water supply schemes are also included in the State plan, though no specific grant assistance is given for such schemes by the Government of India.
