

have come to the notice of the Government. No communication for similar decentralisation of authority to grant industrial licences have come to the notice of the Government. No communication for similar decentralisation of authority to grant industrial licences has been specifically made by the Government of Mysore.

Government of India look upon the economic development of India as a whole. This gives the advantage to the states of being a part of a large unit with a unified economic policy. State Governments on the other hand may have diverse views in respect of industrial policy depending, in particular, on the stage reached in industrial development and growth. For consideration of all the aspects involved—including the need for accelerated growth, prevention of concentration of economic power, rapid development of industrially backward areas and regions and orientation of licensing policy with reference to capital resources, both internal and external, and other constraints—the problems of industrial development and licensing have necessarily to be viewed and tackled from a national perspective. The views of the State Governments are, however, always given due consideration in the formulation of policies and in the process of licensing.
