the previous year; secondly, the capacity of the State Government to execute the Housing Schemes; thirdly, all the Housing Schemes are Plan schemes and the State Governments must be in a position to absorb the schemes within their Plan ceilings. These are the three considerations. That is why there is some distinction between State and State. Maharashtra stands first because its performance has been very good. Second comes Madras, then Mysore, and so on. No pressures are brought in, nor entertained, because the money is limited.
