

of the units near Betul Project where new migrants were being settled in sizeable numbers and to ascertain market prospects of the products with reference to the experience of the existing units in the State, manufacturing similar items.

Following further discussions in December, 1966, a revised proposal was received in January, 1967, from the State Government for setting up of 13 industrial units near Betul for the employment of 451 new migrants at an estimated cost of about Rs. 36.33 lakhs and of 21 industrial units at Itarsi for the employment of 841 new migrants at an estimated cost of Rs. 40.72 lakhs.

While forwarding the revised proposal, the State Government had indicated that the economics and marketing facilities will have to be considered carefully. The State Government have been requested to indicate whether these aspects have been examined and, if so, which of the 34 schemes they would recommend in the light of such examination. In view of the shortage of funds, the State Government are also being requested to indicate an order of priorities for the schemes, for phasing the expenditure, keeping in view the ratio of capital investment to employment potential.
