IRAN IN INDO-PAK DIFFERENCES

*177. SHRI P. ABRAHAM: Will the Minister of EXTERNAL AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether on his return from Iran he made a statement to the effect that Iran would remain neutral in Indo-Pakistan differences; and

(b) whether his views have been contradicted by the Government of Iran?

THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI SURENDRA PAL SINGH):

(a) and (b) As the Minister of External Affairs said in his statement in this House on 22nd May, he had received an assurance from the Iranian Government during his visit to Iran in April, 1967, that Iran would not give military assistance to Pakistan against India. The Minister of External Affairs stated this to the Press on his return from abroad. The Iranian Government informed us that due to certain commitments that they had with Pakistan, they would be obliged to help Pakistan in the event of aggression against her. There is of course no possibility of India committing aggression against Pakistan.
