

SHRI M. C. SHAH : Especially when India has taken some interest in this growing technology, may I know whether the Government intends to go in for some experimental work even though for the present the cost may be prohibitive ?

SHRIMATI INDIRA GANDHI : Sir, experimental work is going on even now.

SHRI M. C. SHAH : May I know the place where it is going on ?

SHRIMATI , INDIRA GANDHI : At the Atomic Energy Establishment in Trombay.

SHRI P. K. KUMARAN : May I know whether the cost structure revealed by the study has been compared with the cost of supplying water to the Bombay area now ?

SHRIMATI INDIRA GANDHI : The cost, as I have said, is very much greater by this process of desalination. It becomes cheaper if such a plant is attached to an atomic reactor or plant.

SHRI SANTOKH SINGH : Is this scheme being carried on somewhere else in any part of the world, and may I know the cost also, because this cost seems to be really very prohibitive ?

SHRIMATI INDIRA GANDHI : I do not know of other places where it is carried on. But I do know that experiments have taken place in the United States and—I stand to correction—perhaps also in Japan.

SHRI N. SRI RAMA REDDY : Is there any possibility in the near future of reducing the cost and bringing it down to the level at which water is at present available to the various cities ?

SHRIMATI INDIRA GANDHI : I should not think this should be possible in the near future.

MR. CHAIRMAN* : The Question Hour is over.
