

[Shri Bhupesh Gupta.]
 tution We are here functioning as the main Opposition party. How can any Minister treat us in this manner? I want to know what the Prime Minister thinks about it. He is not here, I know. But let the Leader of the House come, let Mr. Chagla come and tell us whether this is in order or not. Mr Krishnamachari, a veteran anti-Communist, he allowed his anit-Communism to run away with him and he did not care for the dignity or decorum of the House. I regret, Madam, you did not ask Mr. Krishnamachari to withdraw that remark or else leave the House. Instead, you probably misheard something and asked some others to leave the House. His remark does not do very much credit to Parliamentary procedures. You sent a Parliamentarian of Uttar Pradesh to jail for seven days. How can those on the Treasury Benches come out and call us traitors and use such foul criminal remarks? And you allow them to continue. Every such Member on the Treasury Bench should be chucked out of the Treasury Bench. He is not fit to sit there. Our Parliamentary proceedings are not to be disgraced and sullied by such remarks. So long as you do not expunge such remarks, what is left of the decorum and dignity of parliamentary of public life? Why is this so? We Communists, we are accustomed to insults from counter-revolutionaries and reactionaries and anti-Communists. But we do not want it to be perpetrated in this House in this foul manner. The Finance Minister should not abuse his authority in this House in order to malign every Member of the Opposition and the party as a whole, calling them traitors.
