

copies are, in fact, distributed at the instance of the sponsoring organisations.

In the course of the supplementaries I further stated that a committee was appointed by the Ministry of Works, Housing and Rehabilitation, under the directive of the Cabinet to review the position in regard to the loss suffered by the various journals and periodicals, and as a result of the review made by the committee, the print order, size and frequency of some of the journals had been reduced. I find, however, that the primary objective of the review made by the Screening Committee appointed by the Ministry of W.H. & R. is to effect economy in the consumption of paper and not to examine the financial position of the journals or to suggest measures for reducing their losses.
