

(b) whether he gave any concrete assurance to redress the grievances of the goldsmiths; and

(c) if so, what exactly is the nature of the assurances?

THE DEPUTY MINISTER IN THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI DINESH SINGH): (a) Yes.

(b) and (c) The Prime Minister told them that he was distressed at any Inconvenience caused to them. Obviously he could not deal with them at random and all that he could do was to send the memorandum which they had presented to him to the Finance Minister for his consideration, and this was done. They were, however, informed inter alia that the following steps had so far been taken by the Government to rehabilitate the goldsmiths who had been displaced as a result of the enforcement of the Gold Control Order: —

(i) The State Governments had been asked to prepare schemes for the grant of loans and other educational concessions to bona fide goldsmiths. Some of the State Governments had already prepared such schemes and others were in the process of doing so.

(ii) Cooperative Societies were being organised for providing work for the displaced goldsmiths, within the framework of the Gold Control Rules, or in other allied occupation;.

<iii) At the Central level, employment exchanges had been instructed to register all goldsmiths who were willing to accept alternative employment and highest priority, as in the case of discharged Central Government servants, would be accorded to those who were otherwise qualified and were fit for employment in Government or in other public sector undertakings.

The goldsmiths were also assured that the authorities concerned would
