The index, however, stood at 186.7 on 4th August 1962. The decline has been gradual and on account of several causes. It was not due to bear raids as has been assessed by the hon. Member.

(b) Among the reasons for the decline in share prices may be mentioned the border troubles, the Wall Street crash and the nervousness in the European markets, the foreign exchange shortage, power cuts, the rise in the interest rate structure and reduction in imports.
