SHRI URKHAO GWRA BRAHMA: Sir, it is good that a number of projects are going on in the Bodoland area of Assam under the Special Financial Package. But I would like to know from the hon. Minister one thing. What is the mechanism for monitoring of works and who is responsible for the maintenance of quality of works? Whether the Ministry is satisfied with the progress of implementation of works.

SHRI P.R. KYNDIAH: Mr. Chairman, Sir, in so far as the monitoring system is concerned, we have two types of mechanism. One is the State Government of Assam itself, and the other is at our level, at the Ministry level. In fact, our Secretary had been to Assam just for that matter, that is, firstly, to speed up the release of funds; secondly, to monitor the quality of works, and thirdly, to see how far the work has been done. So, we are quite aware of this, and it is important that we need to see how far the progress has been achieved.

SHRI URKHAO GWRA BRAHMA: Sir, my second supplementary is, the Bodoland area is flood-prone. To bring about infrastructural development of the area and in view of the threat posed by floods, a sum of Rs. 500 crore is not sufficient. I would like to know from the hon. Minister whether the Government is considering to increase this amount and make it Rs. 200 crores per annum instead of Rs. 100 crores per annum.

SHRI P.R. KYNDIAH: Well, with regard to this question, I may mention here that a sum of Rs. 100 crore that has been released to the Bodoland Territorial Council is routed through the State Government, and we are aware that there is an ample need for having this Fund increased. But we are going strictly by the Memorandum of Settlement which has been arrived at on 10th of February, 2003. In view of that agreement, we are allocating Rs. 100 crore annually for five years, and this amount of Rs. 100 crore has been routed through the State Government. But so far as the other Fund is concerned, it is true that there are other channels by which you can have the Fund for the Bodoland, and we are to act on that.

SHRI DWIJENDRA NATH SHARMAH: Sir, after a long time, peace has prevailed in the Bodoland area of Assam, and my hon. colleague has asked about the developmental programmes. I would like to know from the hon. Minister whether he is in favour of taking up some special programmes for improving and enhancing the rich heritage of Bodo people, particularly, in the handloom and handicraft areas, and if so, what steps have been taken by the Ministry till now?

SHRI P.R. KYNDIAH: Sir, in so far as my Ministry is concerned, we are concentrating on infrastructure development. But even then, we are also aware of the need for social upliftment of the people. That is why we are taking care of the medical needs, educational needs and socio-cultural needs of the people. But on this count it has to be understood clearly that the amount has to be disbursed only for infrastructure developmental contents. The other matters will be taken up separately by the concerned Ministries.

SHRI SILVIUS CONDPAN: May I know from the hon. Minister whether there is any machinery at the Central Government to assess the implementation of the various developmental programmes in the BTAD areas? The BTAD areas have been created due to the agitation by the Bodo Tribals on account of the alleged negligence shown against them, both by the Centre and the State, for a long time. I would like to know whether Central Government has given the funds to the DoNER Ministry and whether the money meant for different schemes is properly utilised. What mechanism is there for monitoring the execution of schemes?

SHRI P.R. KYNDIAH: Mr. Chairman, Sir, it is a very important question. In fact, I replied to it earlier. But I would repeat that we have a mechanism both at the State level and at the Central level. I can cite an example that on 30th May, 2005, I advised my Secretary to review Bodoland works and had a meeting at Guwahati to review the various projects that had been taken up in Bodoland. I can tell you that the progress has been very fast after that. I would like to make a mention here that we have taken up and released funds for 18 projects which include road communication, health and other sectors. This mechanism is also activated at the State level. So, we have two levels of monitoring systems to assess the work done at the ground level.

SHRI SILVIUS CONDPAN: Sir, I want to know from the hon. Minister what the monitoring mechanism is. The answer to that question has not come.
