SHRI M. GOVINDA REDDY: Now that I cannot refer to the reply, may I know, Sir, what is the quantity of cotton that is offered and that was accepted?

SHRI M. C. SHAH: Not yet offered or accepted. But it is proposed to import approximately 12 million dollars worth of cotton, that means about 75,000 bales, of staple length 1-1/16" and above.

SHRI M. GOVINDA REDDY: May I know, Sir, what portion of the assistance the value of this cotton forms?

SHRI M. C. SHAH: Out of this 60.5 million aid wheat and cotton have to be for 30 million. Cotton was for 12 million and may now go up to 16 million.

SHRI M. GOVINDA REDDY: Is it true that this cotton is offered on condition that the Government of India agrees to earmark an equal amount of funds for purchasing machinery and capital equipment from the U.S.A.?

SHRI M. C. SHAH: No, Sir.

SHRI S. MAHANTY: Sir, is it not a fact that the guide book was published in the late twenties of the present century?

DR. K. L. SHRIMALI: As I said, I do not know the exact date of publication.

SHRI M. VALIULLA: May I know the rate of admission fees, Sir?

DR. K. L. SHRIMALI: The admission fee is 4 annas for an adult and 2 annas for a child.

SHRI S. MAHANTY: Sir, the rate of expenditure shows that while the Elephanta caves have fetched more income to the Government, they are spending much less on its maintenance not even fifty per cent. Is it not a fact that many of the important images like the Trimurti, Kalyanarunder and other images are decaying gradually and the Government is not taking any steps to preserve them?
