SHRI TIRUCHI SIVA: Sir, the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas has recently proposed a project to explore and extract hydrocarbon in Neduvasal village in Pudukottai district, Tamil Nadu. While the project is said to economically benefit the country in the form of royalties, tax revenue and additional employment, one should also consider the social and environmental impact of such projects. Sir, this project of extraction of hydrocarbon can be extremely harmful to the agricultural fields. Pudukottai region, which is a part of the Cauvery delta, is a highly productive agricultural zone and because of this project, the total area would be deserted. The State is already under the scanner for farmers' suicide. Nearly 606 farmers have committed suicide from the year 2015 and the farmers will be taken much to the worst brink. The production process will also contribute to the greenhouse gases like Carbon Monoxide, Carbon Dioxide, Sulphur Oxide and Nitrogen Oxide. Sir, with all these things, moreover, the spill of the oil would harm the agricultural fields which would take years to recover. The people there are very much agitated because their livelihood is affected and moreover, displacement will also be there. The project will also use more volume of water. It would affect Tamil Nadu which is already having shortage of water and the scanty region would become a desert. The hazardous gas leaks and other things would spoil the entire water region there. In this way, the project is very harmful. The people are under agitation for the past 22 days. We have urged upon the Government not to forget that when the population is increasing, agricultural lands have to be restored and the production has to be increased, you are taking away the agricultural fields; and for such economically viable projects, you cannot kill the agriculture. India is, basically, an agricultural country and, moreover, the Pudukottai region, which is very contributory, lakhs of people would be displaced. So, the Government has to seriously take this into consideration. In Turkmenistan, a methane well has caught fire for the past four years and they have not been able to put it out. Such apprehensions are also there that gas leaks and fire will also affect the neighbouring communities. People are very much agitated and we urge upon the Central Government to immediately revoke the project. We should very categorically state that this project would not be implemented, that no exploration, no extraction of hydrocarbon would be done in Neduvasal and we expect this assurance from the Central Government.
