Improving population to medical infrastructure ratio

†2816. SHRI PRABHAT JHA: Will the Minister of HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) the State-wise population in the country and the ratio of doctors, nurses, medical staff and beds available in the hospitals;

(b) the norms of World Health Organisation thereof;

(c) whether substantial improvements have been registered regarding above as a result of steps taken by the Central Government during the last three years; and

(d) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE (SHRI ASHWINI KUMAR CHOUBEY): (a) to (d) As per information provided by Medical Council of India, there are a total 10,41,395 allopathic doctors registered with the State Medical Councils/Medical Council of India as on 31st December, 2017. Assuming 80% availability, it is estimated that around 8.33 lakh doctors may be actually available for active service. It gives a doctor-population ratio of 1:1596 as per current population estimate of 1.33 billion against World Health Organisation (WHO) norms 1:1000. State-wise details of doctors registered with State Medical Councils/Medical Council of India are given in the Statement-I (See below).

As per Indian Nursing Council (INC) records, there are around 28.8 lakh nursing personnel registered in the country as on 31-12-2016. Assuming 60% availability in the case of Registered Nurses and Registered Midwives (RN&RM) and 80% availability in the case of Auxiliary Nurse Midwives (ANM)/Lady Health Visitors (LHV), it is estimated that around 19.1 lakh nursing personnel are available for active services, which gives a Nurse-Population ratio of about 1:696 against World Health Organisation (WHO) norms 3:1000 (Population taken as 133 crores). Details of State-wise registered nurses in India are given in the Statement-II (See below).
