

- (iii) Implementation of obligations under the various International Conventions and Protocols that are in force at present or which may be ratified or acceded to by India in future.
- (iv) Assistance to concerned authorities in foreign countries and concerned International organisations to facilities co-ordination and universal action for wildlife crime control.
- (v) Develop infrastructure and capacity building for scientific and professional investigation into wildlife crimes and assist State Governments to ensure success in prosecutions related to wildlife crimes.
- (vi) Advise the Government of India on issues relating to wildlife crimes having National and International ramifications, and suggest changes required in relevant policy and laws from time to time.

(c) Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB) has developed online Wildlife Crime Database Management System which is an interactive database driven web based module to invite data pertaining to wildlife crime from the divisional offices of the States directly to the Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB).

(d) and (e) The ID and password have been provided to State Forest and Police officials for updating and viewing the data. State officials and Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB) can analyze crimes related to wildlife by charting out trade route, modus operandi of criminals, same criminals involved in different crime and area of operation as well as specific species targeted by particular criminals etc. It is to mention that wildlife crime is an organised crime with backward and forward linkages. The wildlife crime database of Wildlife Crime Control Bureau (WCCB) is very helpful to combat wildlife crime by identifying the criminals operating in geographical areas based on which advisories and alerts are issued to State enforcement authorities for enforcement and preventive action.
