

As parliamentarians, it is our bounden duty to act as role models and trailblazers in water conservation, by adopting sustainable water management practices both in personal and public life and sensitize one and all in inculcating water conservation techniques like rain water harvesting, afforestation of river banks to prevent soil erosion and reduce annual rainwater runoff.

I hope the entire House will join me in supporting the conservation of water resources and ensuring judicious use of water so that while fulfilling our needs, enough is left for our future generations.

MR. CHAIRMAN: I have one appeal to all, whatever you want to talk, you can complete it before entering into the House and whatever you have to talk in the House, i.e., on subjects where you are permitted, that can be performed here. Other responsibilities can be performed in the Lobbies; the Lobbies are meant for that purpose also. So, keep that in mind and particularly when the Chair is making some observation, it is not fair on the part of anybody to disturb the other man, when he is keenly hearing the observation, is not a good thing to follow; please keep this advice in mind.
