(d): Levy of Cess as part of the tax collection is for meeting specific objectives of the Government. Taking into account the receipts and utilisation of different cesses in the previous years, the additional transfers to reserve funds are also made towards making good the shortfalls, if any, from Union Government's own resources and borrowings.

DR. KANIMOZHI N.V.N. SOMU: Sir, the States have been continuously demanding that the Union Government should bring the proceeds of Cesses and Surcharges into the Divisible Pool so that the States will get a greater share of devolution from the Centre's net proceeds in order to meet their own social, human development and infrastructure commitments. Sir, I would like to know from the hon. Finance Minister whether the Union Government shares its income from Cesses and Surcharges with the State Governments to uphold cooperative federalism. What prevents the Union Government in sharing the income generated through Cesses and Surcharges with the State Governments?

SHRIMATI NIRMALA SITHARAMAN: Sir, let me go back, for a minute, at the time of the introduction of GST, the Union Government collected Cesses, nearly 18 of them, they are also subsumed into the GST. So, literally, if 18 Cesses went off into the GST, they are also getting divided according to the GST formulation. But for those taxes, there are Cesses certainly being collected and the Cesses are spent through the States. The Union Government does not have anything with it, having collected the cess. So, what are the cesses that we are talking about? The health and education cess, secondary education cess, meaning primary and secondary cess, health and education cess which is combined, the GST compensation cess and the road and infrastructure cess. I have given the details in the answer. It is already on the Table. So, I won't want to read everyone of the numbers, but what I would like to draw the hon. Member's attention is, for instance, between 2010-11 onwards and up to 2023, for the primary education cess plus the secondary cess plus health and education cess, is Rs. 4,54,659, the collection in crores, then Rs. 4,60,158 crores, much more than what was collected, has been spent on primary education-related matters and how does this go, Sir? The Union Government, either through its Budget or the collective cesses, goes through the Central sector schemes and Centrally-sponsored schemes. They all go to the States. So, the education-related cess has actually had Rs. 5,498 crores in addition to what has been collected and spent on those particularly stated objectives for which the cess is collected. They say, 'collect the cess, what are you doing with it? You share it with the States! More than what has been collected as cess has been spent and that is spent through the States. The second, Sir, is about GST compensation is a cess which the GST Council has decided and it is collected. Even there, from the Central kitty we have added only because we wanted to make sure that the money reaches the States earlier while the collected cess is a certain amount, utilization is certain other excess added, because utilization was more than what was collected which is Rs. 38,223 crores. More than what is being collected has been spent as compensation under the GST. The last one, which I would like to place on the Table of the House, is the road and infrastructure cess. The estimated collection was going to be Rs. 11,36,951, that is what is being collected and Rs. 11,31,980 is what is being utilised because the collection has come down as a result of reduction in the excise duty collection on petrol and diesel. So, there is a negative of Rs. 4,970 in the road and infrastructure cess, the differential between collection and utilization, but we are committed to fill that amount as well. So, everything and more than everything that is collected as cess, is spent through the States for the States and if there are gaps, the Centre fills it up.

DR. KANIMOZHI NVN SOMU: Sir, though the proceeds of cesses and surcharges are not shared with the States, their share as percentage of gross tax revenue has more than doubled, from 6.26 per cent in 2010-11 to 16.89 per cent in 2021-22. With the current trend, it will cross 20 per cent by 2024. The levy on account of cesses and surcharges was Rs. 3,72,971 crores during the years 2020-21 and 2021-22. Despite an increase from Rs. 49,528 crores in 2010-11 to Rs. 3,74,471 crores in 2021-22, the benefits do not flow down to the States as these are not included in the divisible pool. If the entire cesses and surcharges are shared with the States, then the States would get an additional kitty of Rs. 1,53,533 crores, that is, 41 per cent of Rs. 3,74,471 crores. The States are constrained to generate new resources. It is imperative to bring in a constitutional amendment to include the cesses and surcharges to the divisible pool. Is the Union Government willing to bring in a constitutional amendment to share the cesses and surcharges with the State Governments? I would like to hear an affirmative statement from the hon. Finance Minister in this regard.

SHRIMATI NIRMALA SITHARAMAN: I think, I have answered the question earlier.

THE VICE-CHAIRMAN (SHRI BHUBANESWAR KALITA): Yes, your answer was in detail and it is answered already.

DR. V. SIVADASAN: Mr. Vice-Chairman, Sir, after introduction of the GST, the Panchayat Raj institutions have faced a big loss of their income by way of collection of tax or Cess from entertainment sectors like cinema theatres, entertainment parks and other institutions. A huge amount of income of the Local-Self Government has been reduced because of the GST. That is why I am asking this supplementary to the hon.

Minister. I would like to know from the hon. Minister whether the Ministry has any plan of giving special assistance to Panchayati Raj institutions. If so, the exact amount of assistance may kindly be specified.

SHRIMATI NIRMALA SITHARAMAN: Sir, I think, after the 14th Finance Commission, the devolution going directly to the Panchayati Raj institutions has, in fact, actually gone. So, there is nothing more that I can add beyond that as a reply to the question asked by the hon. Member.

DR. L. HANUMANTHAIAH: Thank you Vice-Chairman, Sir. Sir, tax and Cess are imposed by the State Governments and the Central Government. For example, the State Government is imposing Road Tax on all vehicles. A huge Road Tax is being collected. Secondly, toll is collected by the Central Government. Thirdly, the State Highways have also started collecting toll. So, my question is: What is the deadline to stop either these Cesses or taxes being collected by the Governments? And, what is the coordination between the State Governments and the Central Government while applying these kinds of Cesses to the customers who are paying double or triple for the same use? Sir, I am talking, especially, about the road taxes.

SHRIMATI NIRMALA SITHARAMAN: Sir, normally, toll and toll-related issues are discussed with Road Transport Ministry, because this specific question is relating to roads. The Ministry of Road Transport and Highways and also the States do talk among themselves about toll, toll collection, mismatch and so on. So, at this stage, this is the reply I can give. But, if there is more, I will ask the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways talk to the hon. Member.

SHRI JAWHAR SIRCAR: Sir, while thanking hon. Minister for the reply given, I have two sharp questions. The first one is in support of what Dr. Kanimozhi has said. It is a long-standing demand that Cesses be stopped, since they are being taken unilaterally by the Centre. In a federal system that has evolved for over 75 years, we need to take a fresh look at it. And, Cesses are often used to make bridge finance. She knows it. I know it. We know it. Now, coming to the question, when you mentioned that more than Cesses collected are actually going to the States — not devolved — as Central Sector Grants, I will give you only one example. We have started with the Education Cess. With so much Education Cess and so much of revenue coming to the Central Government, the total expenditure on education has not touched one per cent of the GDP! It was one per cent last year. It has come down to less than one per cent now. The cash-starved States, which do not have cash put together have contributed 3.5 per cent of the GDP to education. I am only appealing to you, as somebody who is a 'constituent' from some State or the other, can the responsibility be so lopsided? Sir, 3.5 per cent spent by the States put together.

THE VICE-CHAIRMAN (SHRI BHUBANESWAR KALITA): Please ask your supplementary question, Mr. Sircar.

SHRI JAWHAR SIRCAR: Will the hon. Minister reconsider how Cess being used, specifically, to target those sectors that are falling short of the long-term demand of the nation? That is all. Thank you.

SHRIMATI NIRMALA SITHARAMAN: The question brings in so many elements which are not strictly in the domain of the Finance Ministry. National demand may be anything. National demand can be anything from one section of the society versus another. I have no disputes with it. But I am here to talk about the quantum of cess that we have collected, the purpose for which it was collected and whether it has been spent or not. I have answered that question even for the hon. Member, Kanimozhi. If there are questions related to, whether it is one per cent or it is two per cent, they are very well asked, but my core question does not pertain to any of these.

THE VICE-CHAIRMAN (SHRI BHUBANESWAR KALITA): The next Question, Question No. 168. First supplementary, Shri Sushil Kumar Modi.
