ANSWER

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY
(SMT. ANUPRIYA PATEL)

- (a) : There is no proposal at this stage to offer export subsidies to pulse traders.
- (b) : The Government formulates import policy of pulses on the basis of close and continuous monitoring of domestic production, availability and price scenario including landed cost of imported stocks.
- (c) & (d) : The Government has kept import of tur and urad under 'Free' category till March, 31, 2023 after carefully analyzing production, availability, prices and market conditions to protect the interest of domestic farmers while ensuring adequate availability at reasonable prices for all consumers across the Country.

The Inter-Ministerial Committee to review prices of Agricultural Commodities is periodically reviewing domestic production and demand and taking suitable remedial measures including regulation of imports.
