

T.R. BAALU): (a) As per information made available by the Commissioner of Customs, Nhava Sheva Port, one hundred and fifty eight oil containers were seized during July-September, 2000. Twenty-five containers have been released after test reports of Chemical Laboratory, Mumbai Customs confirmed their identity as furnace oil. The remaining one hundred and thirty three containers lying at the Port seized by the Central Intelligence Unit are under investigation.

(b) Nine consignments have been received from United Arab Emirates, two from Iran and the remaining five from Kuwait.

(c) and (d) In order to establish the identity of the oil, samples have been drawn for testing by the Mumbai Customs and the Maharashtra State Pollution Control Board. Samples drawn have been sent to the Indian Institute of Petroleum, Dehra Dun for analysis in order to enable a decision on their release/disposal in an environmentally sound manner.
